

If I had been opposed to the project in the first place I probably would report that the pneumatic hammer which is rattling over the downtown district today is drilling for municipal oil. What it's really doing, of course, is putting down holes for the posts that will support the city's new parking meters — a development we endorse.

There are those who feel that the city's abolishment of the free parking privilege in the business district inflicts on the citizen's rights, and is merely an excuse to levy a new tax — but people who feel that way are in the minority. Free parking privileges vanished from city streets when the automobile overran America; Hope is extremely late in meeting a shopping problem that other towns sought to solve promptly.

From now on the business people of our town are going to have to park their cars off the street so customers may come in.

The parking meter is a final answer to the business district problem, if the system is enforced — and The Star wants to say to whoever may be planning to invest in off-the-street parking places that the meter law will be enforced. This newspaper is going to make it a part of its business to double-check the system right from the start. People who go along with the city by establishing off-the-street parking lots have the right to demand enforcement — and they're going to get it.

I've got three stories about dogs and the current cold snap.

B. W. Edwards reports that his young bird dog appeared to be having a nervous breakdown the other morning. Mrs. Edwards had used the dog's Summer-time bathtub to carry some garbage out of the kitchen. The dog, startled by the appearance of the bathtub in mid-Winter, was warning in mute canine fashion that if they made him take a bath this time of year he'd catch pneumonia.

Roy Anderson lets his dog in the house for breakfast toast each morning. But on the coldest morning last week she wanted in, then out — and then in again. Her water-bowl was frozen hard; she couldn't get a drink — and you know how toast is.

In my own house I had the strange case of a dog that was ill — but not too ill to eat. He felt terrible — ate as though he had a mouth full of marbles — but ate, nevertheless. I took him to Dr. Herbert Rogers, the veterinarian. Rogers examined his throat. "H—m—m," he said, "tonsillitis." One shot, two pills, three growls — and we were feeling better.

Last Friday, November 24, I wrote in this column that the financial history of the Long Island railroad, which had that horrible wreck last week, made it appear that the politicians were swamping off a cheap fare for unsafe trains.

Saturday Gov. Dewey of New York demanded the removal of two of the railroad trustees.

But his statement was hopelessly compromised by the following paragraph from a fact history of the Long Island road which the Associated Press furnished Sunday morning newspapers:

"In seeking a boost in passenger fares in 1947, the railroad said it had not been permitted to increase such charges in 20 years."

Fires Cause at Least 12 Deaths

Fires in eight states caused at least 12 deaths yesterday and destroyed more than $3,600,000 worth of property.

Among buildings hit were a Minneapolis hotel, a Hyannis, Mass., lodging house, the Arizona State hospital for insane, two college dormitories and a prison barracks.

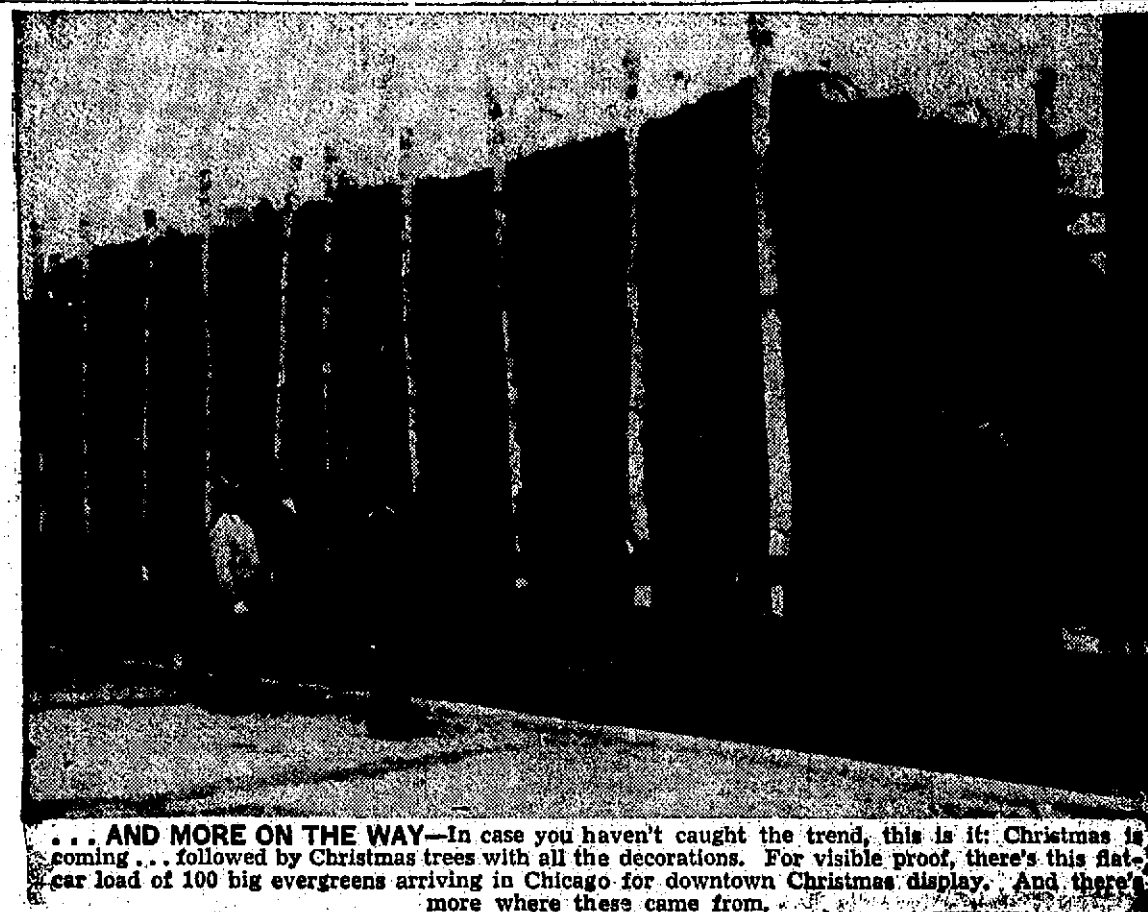

Fifteen persons suffered injuries. Four persons died in flames that swept the Tower, a residential hotel in Minneapolis. Six persons were injured. The hotel occupied the top three floors of a four-story building. The property loss was expected to reach more than $500,000.

In Hyannis, flames gutted a two-story wooden lodging house causing three deaths.

Three hundred convicts escaped injury when flames destroyed a wooden Alabama state prison barracks near Montgomery. The fire was believed to have started from the chimney of a coal heater, overtaxed by 20 degree weather.

Fire occurred before dawn. Guards and trusty prisoners awakened the sleeping inmates. None of the convicts attempted an escape after they left the flaming barracks.

A fire raged for three hours and whipped through three blocks of buildings in Moultrie, Ga., a cotton and peanut center in the southwestern part of the state. No injuries were reported but damage was estimated at more than $2,250,000.

... AND MORE ON THE WAY—In case you haven't caught the trend, this is it: Christmas is coming... followed by Christmas trees with all the decorations. For visible proof, there's this flat-car load of 100 big evergreens arriving in Chicago for downtown Christmas display. And there's more where there came from.

Storms Leave 214 Dead Over the Nation

By The Associated Press

The storm which mauled the whole northeastern section of the nation with record fury over the weekend had vanished today but grief, human misery and industrial paralysis lingered on.

At least 214 deaths were blamed on the devastating winds along the Atlantic seaboard and the heavy snow which fell as far south as Mississippi and Alabama. Damage in New England alone was estimated at $100,000,000, with threatened floods expected to add to the cost.

Most of western Pennsylvania and Northern Ohio still were digging out of snow which brought business to a virtual halt in such cities as Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Columbus, Akron, Youngstown, and Dayton.

The wind which hammered parts of the Atlantic coast with a force of as much as 108 miles an hour at times was described by the weather bureau as the worst ever to hit that region. It left many areas still without power service today and thousands still shivering without heat or lighting. Losses to boat owners were the heaviest since the 1938 hurricane.

The blow was accompanied by torrential rains which had sent some New England streams out of their banks. Some others were threatening to overflow.

Resumption of normal business in the snow-bound sections of Pennsylvania and Ohio still was not in sight today.

Transportation facilities were crippled to carry sufficient workers to their jobs. Many schools were closed for the day at least.

All public and parochial schools remained closed in Pittsburgh where the snowfall measured a record 27 inches. Mayor David Lawrence declared a state of emergency in the city and appealed to all but essential workers to stay of their jobs and help clear the city's side streets. U. S. Steel corporation, Western Electric corporation and the H. J. Heinz company told their thousands of employees to stay home.

Ex-Resident of County Succumbs

P. Q. Lovells, aged 76, a former resident of Hempstead county, died yesterday at his home in Texarkana.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ann Lovells, two sons, P. Q. Lovells, Jr., and Charles Lovells of Texarkana, a daughter Edna R. Lovells of Little Rock and a brother, Claud Lovells of Nashville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. Paul Church near Ozan by the Rev. W. C. Lewis.

Many Arkansas Sections to Stage Christmas Parades

Arkansas' chief resort city, Hot Springs, officially opens its holiday season Monday night with the annual Christmas parade.

The Hot Springs' civic observance will be climaxed with the annual pageant and carol singing on Christmas Eve.

Camden got the season off to an early start when the South Arkansas city turned on its Christmas lighting Saturday.

DeQueen and Jonesboro will get the observance underway with parades next Friday. At Magnolia it'll be Saturday with arrival of Santa Claus by special train.

Arkadelphia — Patsy McPherson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McPherson of West 11th Street, Hope, has been elected senior football maid this year at Henderson State Teachers College. The queen and maids are elected by the Red die football team.

Miss McPherson is a senior at Henderson where she is majoring in speech. She has had several honors while at Henderson. Patsy has been a member of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Salvation Army Drive to Get Underway

The Annual Salvation Army Campaign for funds will get under way tonight when nearly 50 local people will meet at the Hotel Barlow at 7 o'clock for the kick-off meeting of workers on the drive, according to Albert Graves, chairman of the Hempstead County Salvation Army Service Unit Committee.

Mr. Graves said that instructions and materials which the workers will need for their work in the drive will be given them at this meeting and it is important that every worker make a special effort to attend.

The Salvation Army has proven itself of great value to the World at large for more than 80 years, and in more recent years has extended its work to small cities and towns and even to the Rural sections of the country through its Service Unit Committees set up in small cities like Hope.

For the past 3 years The local Committee has rendered a great service to many needy people in Hempstead County and we are confident that the public in general will be generous with their donations as the workers approach the various business houses and others for their support of this most worthy Religious and Humanitarian organization.

Mr. Graves said that a part of the funds raised in the annual Campaign remains in the hands of the local Committee to be used locally as the committee sees fit, and in the past few years this has been of great help to people in our vicinity.

Yerger PTA to Meet Tuesday in Lunch Room

The Yerger PTA will hold its regular meeting in the Yerger Lunch Room, Tuesday night, Nov. 28, at 7 p.m. After the business period, there will be a general discussion in the form of a "Questionaire." Each person attending will be privileged to drop a question of their choice in the box. The meeting will be climaxed with a social period. All parents and patrons are asked to attend. The attendance banner will be presented to the class having the highest representation.

Local Schools to Observe Thanksgiving

The elementary schools of Hope District 1-A have planned many celebrations for Thanksgiving week.

Students under the direction of Mrs. Brents McPherson at Oglesby will present "Thanksgiving Without Turkey", a one-act play, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Janelle Yocom, Ledline White, Sylvia Arnold, Van Moore and Jim Wilson will act in the play. Franklin Horton will be master of ceremonies, and Judith May will render a piano solo.

Fulton's fifth and sixth grades under the supervision of Mrs. Ruby Baber will give the play "Pilgrims in Action" Wednesday. They will also sing "Pilgrim's Children" and "Thanksgiving Day". The seventh and eighth grades taught by H. F. Rider will go on field trips this week for the purpose of studying autumn leaves and the preparation of animals for winter. During Thanksgiving week Mrs. Tom Hill's third and fourth grades will be reading stories, making posters, and giving Thanksgiving poems in choral readings. Mrs. W. A. Abbott's first and second grade pupils have decorated their room with turkeys, pilgrims, pumpkins, and original drawings of Indian and Colonial life. A large colorful chart showing the things they are thankful for was made.

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, public school music instructor, has taught the students of all schools many Thanksgiving songs. Among them are "Mr. Turkey Gobble", "Thanksgiving Worries", "Over the River and Through the Wood", "Going to Grandmothers", "Thankful" and The Doxology.

The fifth grade at Garland under the supervision of Mrs. F. J. Burroughs will present the Thanksgiving play "Indian Moccasins". Those taking part will be Sheila Foster, Diane Helms, Jo Ellen Barr, Barbara Hutson, Robert Story, and Jerry Franks. Webb Laseter, III, president, will preside over the program. Carlene Fuller is secretary, Mary Eppler, program chairman, and Dock Bass is prompter. All students at Garland at Thanksgiving have been reading stories of pilgrims and have been doing creative work. Mrs. Jines' room made a poster, "Things I am Thankful For". Mrs. Atkins' students have been studying paper sculpture. Each pupil will make some animal of a foreign land.

At Ayersley Mrs. Dodson's, Mrs. Hatch's, and Mrs. Pilkinton's pupils will give home room Thanksgiving plays about the first Thanksgiving. Mrs. Will's room drew scenes of Thanksgiving. Miss Holt's pupils made pine cone turkeys to decorate the cafeteria tables and put up a poster entitled "King Turkey" in the cafeteria. For choral reading they have learned Emerson's "Father in Heaven, Thank Thee". They have also packed a basket for a needy family. Mrs. Green's room has made original Thanksgiving posters and

Congress Not in Mood for Truman Program

Washington, Nov. 27 — (AP) — The 81st congress returns today for a short lame duck session and it was pretty evident the lawmakers were not in the mood to do all the things President Truman wants them to do.

Republicans generally haven't left much doubt that they would prefer to leave everything but emergency legislation until Jan. 3, when the new 82nd congress with increased GOP strength takes over.

Many of them subscribed to the program of Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who when asked what he thought the expiring congress should do, quipped: Adjourn.

The program Mr. Truman wants is pretty well known. It includes a $4,000,000,000 excess profits tax on corporations, rent control extension, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, relief funds for drought-stricken Yugoslavia and probably $10,000,000,000 or more in new military money.

The President arranged to talk over the legislative program this morning with his Capitol Hill lieutenants. Such Monday morning conferences are normal when congress is in session. Republican leaders planned a strategy session either today or tomorrow.

Vice President Barkley hoped to attend the White House talk and then go on to preside over the senate. He has been undergoing a physical checkup at the Bethesda, Md., Navy Medical center.

Portions of the President's family ambitious program are imperiled not only by the changed political complexion of the next congress, with its added GOP strength, but by the shortness of time — five weeks at best. The general expectation is that the session will last at least three weeks, possibly longer. Any pending legislation not passed by Jan. 3 will automatically expire.

Then, too, the dying congress contains a lot of lame ducks — legislators who have been defeated at the polls. Altogether, some 75 are near the end of their terms. Ten senators were defeated four did not see re-election. Thirty-two house members were defeated.

Chinese Red Attacks in Korea Threaten Entire Collapse of UN Thrust

Rearmament Foes Win in German Vote

Munich, Germany, Nov. 27 — (AP) — West Germany's Socialists — bitter opponents of German rearmament for 'Western defense' — scored big gains today in Bavarian state elections.

With returns still incomplete, the Socialists were running a strong second to the pro-armament Christian Democrats in the balloting yesterday for members of the state parliament.

The surprising Socialist showing in this traditionally conservative state was certain to be interpreted as a third protest vote within a week by German voters against rearmament.

Hesse and Wuertemberg-Baden rolled up Socialist victories on Nov. 19 in elections widely regarded as a slap at the Christian Democrats, who control the federal government, for their support of German rearmament.

Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the Christian Democrats' leader, already has agreed to take West Germany into the projected Western defense system. He must obtain approval from the federal parliament, however.

Bavaria has been a Christian Democratic stronghold since 1946. In the election that year, the party received more than 50 per cent of all votes.

This year the Socialists challenged the Christian Democrats in Bavaria solely on the rearmament issue. They argued that the Germans should refuse to take up arms again until they have full independence and enough Allied troops in Germany to repel any Soviet attack.

The Christian Democrats count-

Tokyo, Nov. 27 — Bugle-blasting Chinese Red attacks today threatened complete collapse of the big United Nations end-the-war offensive.

Elements of two Chinese Communist armies — more than 100,000 men — rolled back the Allies' entire northwestern Korean front. The characteristic bugle calls of the Chinese Reds pierced the frozen night air as enemy troops swarmed to the attack.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the U. S. 25th division, sized up the situation this way:

The big United Nations offensive to bring an early end to the Korean war was threatened, with complete collapse today. This was the stark reality of the situation after 48 hours of savage fighting. Chinese and North Korean RVD troops have dealt a stunning blow to United Nations forces. The offensive that rolled forward for two days has been stopped cold. U. N. troops are on the defensive after giving up most of their gains.

Reserve units of Americans, British and Turks were rushed up to bolster a sagging 30-mile eastern section of the winding 80-mile front stretching inland from the Yellow sea. The front runs from 40 to 60 miles south of the Manchurian border.

An estimated 130,000 Reds — most of them Chinese — in quilted winter uniforms — began the counter-assault late Saturday night. Republic of Korea (ROK) troops and the U. S. second and 25th divisions bore the brunt of the attacks, which continued with increasing fury Sunday night.

Correspondent Leif Erickson said the American divisions stopped the second night attacks in the center of the line after earlier withdrawal of several miles.

The situation on the eastern flank, manned by the ROK seventh, eighth and ninth divisions, was not clear. Fighting within a mile of four to 11 miles in the ROK sector were reported Sunday.

Field dispatches indicated heavy Allied casualties. An indirect censorship settled over operations as a security measure.

In Tokyo, General MacArthur's spokesman said the Chinese counter-blows were expected. He asserted that the U. N. offensive, which MacArthur hoped would end the war by Christmas, was halted temporarily but is continuing.

The spokesman described Sunday's withdrawals as limited and added that in any general advance, the foremost spearheads can be expected to be pushed back. That's what is happening now, he said.

But he declined to elaborate on what was meant by limited withdrawals. Correspondent Whitehead said the reversal in battle fortunes came with startling suddenness and the Eighth army is battling to hold the southward surge of Red troops.

There is no chance of offensive action on this front until the Red attack has been halted and a firm new line established," he added.

Only in the northeast were Allied advances reported. But Red resistance in some sectors there was stiffening.

In the north-central sector, U. S. marines drove westward from the big Changlin power reservoir toward Red snow-mantled mountains.

It was too early to see whether, and to what extent, the marine drive would help U. N. forces falling back on the northwest front. From Eighth army headquarters, Correspondent Erickson reported at least 10 Chinese Red divisions — numbering 8,000 to 10,000 men each — were estimated on the eastern half of the northwestern front.

The Reds evidently were trying to turn the entire right flank of the Eighth army in the Tokchon area. They wrested Tokchon from the ROK Seventh division Monday.

One Person Is Injured in 3-Way Accident

A three-way accident yesterday in the 400 block on East Third St. resulted in serious damage to 3 vehicles and one person was injured.

An automobile driven by H. W. Hall, Jr., rammed the back of a truck driven by Oscar L. Chiner and both vehicles crashed into a taxicab driven by Hugh Bearden. Hall received painful cuts and bruises about the face. His auto was badly damaged. The other vehicles were also damaged. City police investigated.

Potato production in Arkansas County, Mo., is greater than that of any other state.

U. S. Plans to Attack China Action in Korea

Lake Success, Nov. 27 — The United States plans to counterattack in the north today against Chinese Communist charges of American aggression in Formosa.

With a new Red offensive against U. N. troops in the Delegate Warren R. A. prepared 20 stinging questions ask Communist spokesmen Haul-chuan when he shows his first appearance before curity council.

The exact nature of the questions are a carefully guarded secret, because — as a U. N. said — "We don't want to Red's homework for them."

Presumably, however, the probe the reasons for Red entry into the Korean war they are doing there and their future intentions are.

Austin is expected to answer the questions with a demand Peiping get its soldiers out of Korea.

We will probably demand that the U. S. get out of Korea and also Seventh fleet out of Formosa, allowing Peiping to attack the island stronghold of the U. S. Nationalists.

These Chinese charges are to be detailed in the United Nations Security Council today.

U. N. member delegations appear to back up the American position.

Reports were current, however, that Malaya might consider the Russian demand to withdraw from the new valley after afternoon appearances by a future revelation of the extent of the charges.

They also felt he would his own speech buried the counts of counterattacks, charges and countercharges.

If however, he decided to read the indictment of the United States this morning, Delegate John Foster is ready to enter an absolute.

Dulles, saying that his answer will be brief, has said that he will demand to make a complete and ed responses later.

Basketball Dribbles Onto Sports Scene

New York, Nov. 27 — (AP) — What's this; football isn't even over and here's college basketball getting up a full head of steam.

In fact, the dribble boys went into action last week with City College of New York (CCNY) taking up where it left off last March.

The first team ever to accomplish basketball's grand slam by winning both the national invitation and NCAA tournaments back in March opened its season Saturday with a 81-62 triumph over St. Francis of Brooklyn. The Nat Holman-coached quintet has a breather against Iuets (NY) this week, but there are more games on tap as major teams throughout the country take the hardwood for the first time.

North Carolina State, defending Southern conference champion, pry off the lid on Tuesday night against Furman. Generally, however, most of the games are listed for the weekend when teams from virtually all the major conferences begin shooting.

Kansas State of the Big Seven meets Long Island in the feature of a Saturday night twin bill at Madison Square Garden. William and Mary of the Southern conference is pitted against St. John's (Brooklyn) in the other game.

There also is a Saturday double-header at Buffalo, pairing Canisius and Oregon State, of the Pacific coast, and Niagara against Brigham Young of the Skyline Six.

Michigan, Minnesota, Purdue, Wisconsin and Indiana are some of the Big Ten clubs listed to get going this week. Nebraska plays at Minnesota Saturday. Southern Methodist, of the Southwest conference, has two games on tap against Texas Wesleyan on Tuesday and Oklahoma on Friday.

Bears Upset Rams in Pro Ranks

New York, Nov. 27 — (AP) — The Chicago Bears, a ruthless gang of gridiron killers, are on the loose again.

Once more the monsters of the "midway" are staging open warfare on National Football league teams. They've brutally smashed their way into the National conference penthouse — and it looks as if they're going to pick up the league.

Playing their finest game of the season, the Bears stomped on Los Angeles, 24 to 14, yesterday and not only ended the Rams' six game winning streak, but dropped them into second place.

The American conference battle also continued to rage as the New York Giants upset the Philadelphia Eagles, 7 to 3, to tie Cleveland's idle Browns for the lead.

The Rams (8-3) conclude their season against Green Bay Sunday, while the Bears (8-2) still have the Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions left. So the Los Angeles cause is not completely hopeless.

It's much the same with the Giants and Browns, both sporting 8-2 records with two games to play. Philadelphia gets that long-awaited crack at the Browns in Cleveland Sunday, while the Giants entertain their cross-town rivals, the Yankees. Then the Giants play the Eagles in Philadelphia and the Browns visit Washington.

In other games, which had no bearing on the divisional races, the Green Bay Packers edged San Francisco, 25-21, and Washington outlasted Baltimore, 38-28.

Green Bay plowed to a pair of last-quarter touchdowns in handing San Francisco its ninth setback. The money play came on Paul Christman's 44-yard toss to Rookie Floyd Field with three minutes left to play. Christman is a former Missouri star.

The Los Angeles Rams have the fastest end in pro football — Bob Boyd, 1930 NCAA sprint champion and a 9.5 second 100-yard dash man.

Earl Browder, Five Others Are Indicted

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Earl Browder, one time No. 1 American Communist, and five other persons were indicted today on charges of contempt of congress.

The indictments were based on the refusal of the six to answer questions asked by congressional committees or to give requested information.

Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip J. Jaffe were accused of contemptuously refusing to answer questions during a senate investigation of Communist influence in government.

Dr. Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and two others were indicted for refusing information asked by a house lobby investigating committee.

The others were Joseph P. Kamp, executive vice chairman of the constitutional educational league, and William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the civil rights congress.

Conviction for contempt of congress is punishable by up to a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Browder, Field and Jaffe were cited by the senate Sept. 22.

The senate's action upheld a recommendation by a foreign relations subcommittee which investigated Communist influence in government charges of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis).

The committee, headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.), failed to get answers to many questions put to Browder, Field and Jaffe.

Field, a wealthy New Yorker, refused to tell the committee whether he is or ever has been a member of the Communist party. He is a former official of the Institute of Pacific Affairs.

Louis Budenz, a former Communist who renounced the party had testified to the committee that the Institute was infested with Reds.

Jaffe was editor of the now defunct Amerasia magazine which figured prominently in the senate

The Present Situation in Korea Reminds of U. S. Position in German Bulge

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Pierce Chinese Communist counterattacks have placed a no other grave hazard in the way of General MacArthur's big offensive to force quick ending of the war.

Even before this surprising encircling of the Chinese Communist chief's expectation of getting our soldier boys home by Christmas had caused doubtful raising of military eyebrows. After all, a month ago on Jan. 1, 1950, the U. S. troops were in a position to win the war.

Still, even if the transportation estimate might seem optimistic we shouldn't write the U. N. offensive off as a failure at this early stage. Give it time.

The position in North Korea reminds one rather forcibly of that never-to-be-forgotten Battle of the Bulge in mid-December of '44. Then our troops were near disaster as the result of a heavy enemy counter-attack over a forty mile front. But we withstood the powerful drive and then went on to win one of the great battles of American history.

The U. N. commander in chief may have been making a shrewd gamble on the weather. Winter already is maneuvering to get its icy grip on Korea and, once it has succeeded, big scale military operations will be exceedingly difficult.

However, between the start of winter and the ice-bound days (which come in early December) there is a brief period in which troops can be moved and heavy fighting can take place. So it could be—and this is speculation on my part—that MacArthur has aimed at a quick knockout of the Chinese Communists in North Korea, just before winter shuts in and makes it impossible for the Chinese in Manchuria to move further reinforcements across the Yalu river until spring arrives.

Should that happen, it would indeed be the end of the military task given MacArthur. He could begin the guarding of the frontier to the South Koreans, and release at least some of the other U. N. troops.

French invasion of North Korea in force by Chinese Communists from Manchuria could come in the spring because they have large bodies of fighting men in Manchuria and are reported to be moving more there. Still, the question of what might happen next spring is among the imponderables.

For one thing there is no clear indication of just what the Chinese Communist leader, General Mao Tse-tung, is aiming for. While he obviously has entered into a partnership with Moscow, there is no sign that he wants a Chinese-American war.

Mao will join Moscow in helping weaken the U. S. A., and other Western nations by indirectness, as in the Korean conflict. But it is unlikely he is looking for a duel with the world's most powerful nation.

The United States, for her part, has made it plain that she doesn't want trouble with China. Washington has been going out of its way to let Peiping know that we desire peace. It's only a short time ago that President Truman issued a statement stressing our friendship for the people of China.

Indeed, as I pointed out in this column last week, the United States couldn't afford a war with China because a military victory would still leave us with a political black-eye in Asia. America would lose even if she won.

So now if MacArthur could give about as many retired voluntarily. An additional factor which may reduce White House influence is that Mr. Truman's two top senate lieutenants—Floor Leader Lucas of Illinois and Senator Myers of Pennsylvania—are lame ducks.

Both lost to Republicans. In the senate, with its unlimited debate, prospects are that a lot of time will be spent talking about foreign policy, especially in the Far East. A good many Republicans have been claiming that the election returns indicated a repudiation of the programs of the President and Secretary of State Acheson.

us a quick victory, confusing the conflict to Korean territory, it might do much to lessen further the danger of conflict between China and the United States.

It should convince Peiping that America has no designs on Manchuria.

Pittsburgh Digging Out of Snowstorm

Pittsburgh, Nov. 27 (AP)—This industrial city today is digging out from under its longest, costliest, deepest and nastiest snowfall. The snow reached a record depth of 27 inches, it fell continuously for 90 hours. Eleven deaths resulted in Pittsburgh. Six more deaths were listed in other equally hard hit near by counties.

Much of Pittsburgh's booming industry, well acquainted with periodic strike shutdowns, ground to a halt for another reason this time. Workers could not get to work.

The weather forecast today called for cloudy skies with a possible two to four additional inches of snow. Forecasters predicted slowly moderating temperatures with a low tonight of 20 degrees.

Mayor David L. Lawrence declared a state of emergency and broadcast an appeal for all but essential workers to stay at home and help clear side streets.

Civilian defense chairman Ross Loeffler asked air raid wardens and civilian police to stand by their radios for calls to emergency duty.

More than 2,000 men are trying to clear main traffic arteries in the downtown section. Thousands more are working in the suburbs. The state guard made its trucks and other vehicles available for the gigantic task.

The steel capital's previous biggest snowstorm came in 1925 when 26.2 inches was recorded.

Work crews filled huge trucks with snow and sent them lumbering off to Pittsburgh's rivers—the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio—to dump their loads.

But despite the snow clearing efforts, auto travel is hazardous where possible at all. More cab drivers and motorists, however, ventured onto main thoroughfares their wheel chains rattling.

Discoveries on Anemia to Aid Soldiers

Salt Lake City, Nov. 27 — (AP) — Discoveries about anemia by the college of medicine of the University of Utah should ease the recovery of the GI wounded in Korea.

This trouble is known as the anemia of infection. It is common among most persons who are sick for more than a month. In Korea the proportion subject to this anemia is the highest in American military history because the death rate from wounds is the lowest. That leaves more men to take the slow road to recovery and to face anemia of infection.

The anemia findings were described today by Dr. Maxwell M. Winthrope, professor and head of the department of medicine.

This anemia is lack of a full supply of red blood corpuscles. Iron makes the red corpuscles. In the anemia the Utah scientists found that iron was depleted in the plasma, the water-colored part of blood.

Strangely enough, however, there was no loss of iron from the body. The iron that had been in the plasma merely had left there and gone into storage.

Iron was given to these patients, both by mouth and by injection directly into the blood stream. When fed, the iron failed to go into the plasma, but went to storage. When injected directly into the blood and plasma, the iron promptly left for the storehouses.

No reason for this behavior of iron was found. But it was discovered that the iron returned to the plasma automatically whenever the infection was cured.

This, Dr. Winthrope said, changes some current methods of treating this kind of anemia. No medicine of any kind, not even the liver and vitamins which "cure" pernicious anemia, have any effect on this kind. The cure is to concentrate on getting rid of the infection.

Dr. Winthrope said it is doubtful that any good is done for this form of anemia by the frequently recommended multiple-shot medicines — the sort containing several anti-anemia chemicals and metals.

East Returns to Normal
After Storm

Nov. 27 — (AP) — Life for most of the eastern seaboard's millions was getting back to normal today, 48 hours after the great Appalachian storm spread death and destruction from South Carolina to Maine.

The death list in the coastal states and New England stood at 6, threatened to grow as delayed reports came in from isolated areas. Some estimates put property loss at $100,000,000 in the northeast alone.

Most power, traffic and telephone service torn up by the storm was restored yesterday, but many areas still were cut off — mostly suffering from power failure. Thousands shivered at night for lack of heat and met the darkness with candles — if they were lucky enough to have them.

The storm itself moved away from the coastal region Saturday night, leaving behind a cold wave that hovered just under freezing.

Contrary to all normal weather movements in the northern hemisphere, the storm's center turned northwest instead of continuing northeast. It left New York only to swing over Lake Erie, then down on northern Ohio, and then northwest again over Lake Huron where the weather bureau said it was blowing itself out today.

This was the storm center only. Around it on all sides were raging snow-laden winds whirling out nearly 600 miles in every direction and hitting from Maine to the Mississippi river at their widest span.

On the storm's earlier northeast passage, the shore areas were ripped by winds with gusts up to 108 miles per hour, and drenched with rain.

THE STORY: An elderly couple, wiped out in the stock market crash, find a way to live. The story is a tale of a man and a woman who, after losing their money, find a way to live. The story is a tale of a man and a woman who, after losing their money, find a way to live.

smiled any more. At the moment her expression was one of serious determination like that of someone who was going to keep an important appointment, say with a dentist.

CARL PETERSON had no trouble finding his wife. Without knowing why he did it he went automatically to the little house on Poplar Street which he and Kirsten had wanted to buy since long before they were married.

Carl, who had no very great conceit about his own ability or attractiveness, could understand that she might have found someone whom she liked better than himself. But that she should have broken the promise which he had made to each other was unthinkable.

There was a vacant lot on the north side of the house. Three kids about 12 were playing One Old Cat there with an indoor baseball.

Carl did not follow her into the adjoining bath. He could hear the water from the shower spray running in icy needles, Kirsten was a seal in her preference for cold water, as he sat down on her own private stiff-backed dressing chair to try to decide what to do.

Most of those who loudly damn the Nazi political system are actually Nazis themselves who would have nazified the United States long ago for the resistance of such Republicans as Senator Taft, Governor Dewey, Mark Sullivan, Vivien Kellems and, if I may say so, Pegler.

As she passed him at the gate he could have struck her, at least he thought he could. And yet, as she came near, his will to hurt her turned to water. There was that much of the old magic left. He followed her to the door which she opened with a latch-key. It startled him a little when she closed the door after she had entered and locked it again in his face.

What is nazism? It is national socialism. It is socialism and nationalism. Hitler said it was "good for the lesser breeds. Therefore, it was not for export. He did export it, however, as we know, but even though he set up punks in New York, New Jersey and a few other localities, it cannot be said that he seriously tried to impose national socialism on our country. He didn't have to. Roosevelt and his wife and Hopkins were beating him to it.

She was wearing a dark blue coveralls with a worker's photographic identification disc over the left breast. Kirsten was tall and thin in a sleek, lithe sort of a way, equipped with long, strong muscles like a man. She carried herself as queens probably used to walk, high and confidently, as if she knew that all obstacles would be cleared from her path.

Carl stood on the sidewalk looking over the white picket fence at the front door. Kirsten got off the bus at the corner and came immediately toward him.

Carl failed to get the significance of the bathrobe until later. Scandinavian minds do not leap to conclusions so readily as those of the Latin and Gallic races. The men of the north, however, when they do get a good grip on an idea usually die with it still between their teeth.

Hope-Nashville in Annual Grid Clash Thursday

Thursday, Arkansas Thanksgiving Day, will renew the annual football rivalry between the Nashville Scrappers and the Hope Bobcats at Nashville.

With the exception of a few years the teams have always played on Thanksgiving Day and the affair is now well-established as a Turkey Day classic. In the late thirties Hope reshuffled its schedule and the Nashville game was moved up in the season and later changed back.

And everybody was pleased with the change. Rivalry between the two teams, although not as keen as in past years has made the game a natural. Never has an incident occurred that marred the game — its always been good, clean football and surprisingly few penalties have ever been assessed although play on the field is always rugged and rough.

Thirteen Bobcat seniors will be playing their last high school game. They are: Gordon Beasley, Joe Barrentine, Billy Joe Taber, Louis Sutton, Mac Hooper, Bill Gunter, Jim Edwards, Verdon Kennedy, Carl Willis, Charles Crump, Wayne England, Reeder, Hildredson and Johnny Pate.

The team will be accompanied by the band. Its homecoming for Nashville and pre-game and halftime festivities will be colorful. Tickets are now on sale at the Hope High school office for $1.25. This includes reserve seats.

Although the teams started playing much earlier since 1928 they have met 23 times (twice in 1945) with the Scrappers winning 12 to 10 for Hope and in 1943 the game ended in a 19-19 tie. From 1928 to 1935 Hope only won one game. From 1935 on the Bobcats have victories to 6 for the scrappers.

The record:

Year	Hope	Nashville

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Nov. 27. — (P) — The Dodgers hope to name their 1951 manager at a press conference tomorrow. The Cardinals, according to Fred Saigh's recent promise, will take some sort of managerial action this week.

original is already beginning to grumble.
End Of The Line
Eddie Erdelatz tabs Tulane as the toughest football team Navy has faced this season. That opinion is subject to revision next Saturday.

We can't guess who'll get the call for any of the three jobs, but it's certain that Branch Rickey has enough sense of drama to make sure that the third act is the climax. Rickey, incidentally, won't find it easy to get credit for building a young team at Pittsburgh. At the start the Pirates are loaded with bonus babies Paul Pett and Bob Friend and such other valuable youngsters as Con Dempsey, Vern Law, Eddie Fitzgerald and Dale Coogan.

On the West coast, the champion California Bears were regarded as also-rans behind Stanford and Southern California. But Pappy Waldorf is not a man to take the experts seriously, so his team too, is expected to be tapped today for the Rose Bowl.

Bozbo told me the duc had a low opinion of Hitler. He regarded him as an imitator. Furthermore, Bozbo said, anti-Jewishness was a personal idea of Hitler's and didn't belong in the (scholarship) list of true fascism. The Italian Fascist movement of that time would have none of it. Fascism adopted anti-semitism only when Hitler had become the head man of the axis and Mussolini was trying to appease him.

Texas was loaded and everybody knew it. The Longhorns did not disappoint. Even though Southern Methodist went to the top of the heap in the early stages of the season, but now, after losing three of their last four games, the Mustangs are just about out of the running for any bowl consideration.

Our blue eagle administration was straight fascism and capitalism. It had not been struck down by the old, American Supreme court, the sick-chicken case, the national government today would be real ulaging business in every detail down to the charge for pressing a pair of pants, with criminal penalties for violation. I believe we actually did have a blue eagle case involving the price that one of our "little people" charged for pressing a suit. You could not undercharge. That was a crime as bad as overcharging.

Before hostilities started, Tennessee was regarded only behind Notre Dame, Army and Michigan. Kentucky was way down the list. The Vols were all but forgotten until Kentucky sold them short Saturday. The moral of that one is never let Bob Neyland's team get a lead on you.

Roosevelt did not repudiate this audacious venture in national socialism. On the contrary, he attacked the court for thwarting him and tried to get a new court that would permit him to nazify the United States. But the verb "nazify" means "to institute national socialism." I know corruption was bad in Italy. The Fascist princes of privilege gathered them up while they might, just as Hitler. Roosevelt trimmed his vict time with his old man's active help it seems to me, from the purge and other cold-blooded incidents. That Hitler's Nazis were more strict about graft. But can you imagine now the greedy rogues of the New Deal, especially some of those shy, bizzards from Harvard law who looked to Washington to feast on the corpse of their country, would have picked the bones of business with their nasty heeklements and criminal informations if N.R.A. had survived the test in court.

Well, that's how it went right down the line. . . High pre-season expectations ground into the turf. Teams that were expected to do nothing, rising into the clouds. With only a smattering of games left next Saturday, four major teams remained unbeaten and untied — Princeton, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Army. All have nine victories except Army which has eight. The season is over for Princeton and Wyoming, while Army still must tangle with Navy Saturday and Oklahoma must get past Oklahoma A. and M.

What difference can any honest man find in the essential character and actions of Hitler's storm troops, the Brown Shirts, and the organized goons of unionism under Roosevelt? Were the Brown Shirt window-smashings and beatings which appalled us any worse than the vandalism of the imported sectionists in the auto factories of Michigan and the steel towns of Ohio and Pennsylvania? We must keep in mind the absolute fact that these terrorists were not strikers. They were paid professional rioters and vandals and many of them were Communists. The real workers wanted to and tried to go to their jobs and were kept at bay by the goons — Brown Shirts. Or they were forcibly compelled to join and held within the captured plants by armed union sentries. Under the state constitutions this conduct was treason, punishable by death. But the governors either did not know the contents of their state constitutions or, as in the case of Frank Murphy of Michigan, were afraid to do their sworn duty. Did you ever read the constitution of your state?

That was national socialism and millions were forced to join unions and give up money to the boss unionizers, who then used this money to keep our nazi government in power. So when some idolator of Roosevelt writes heavily about the problem of determining which Germans have been truly de-nazified, and warns us that we cannot trust them, we should bear in mind that we can't trust him, either. He may not even realize that he is a nazi. But he is, and the domestic political problem of the United States is to de-nazify the great mass of our population who prattle of "democracy" when they mean Hitlerism minus anti-semitism.

Roosevelt did not repudiate this audacious venture in national socialism. On the contrary, he attacked the court for thwarting him and tried to get a new court that would permit him to nazify the United States. But the verb "nazify" means "to institute national socialism." ## Weather Reels News Headlines

MAX HALL
(James Marlow)
Washington, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Congress in a short session today will pass major domestic news of the last few days has not been passed. Rather, the big black clouds have had to go with them. First, the nation was appalled by the rear-end collision on the Long Island railroad, one of the most alighting trains in the American history.

Then, while the investigations of this accident were getting underway, the eastern third of the country was ravaged by one of the worst cold-weather storms on record.
The death toll of this storm has reached at least 200 and the property damage was steadily growing.
It was an unusual storm not only in violence but in its character.
Terrific wind banged the northern seaboard but it was not the northeaster that often strikes that area for it blew out of the east and southeast. The air was warm and there was no snow.
At the same time, astonishing snowfalls occurred inland, in the region of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. There, the air was icy cold. Sift winds rushed out of the north, northwest and west. The storm in this region took on the character of a blizzard, though the weather bureau says it wasn't a typical blizzard, which fills the air with snow blown from the ground.

Now this may sound like two different storms, but the weather bureau says it was all the same storm, caused primarily by a big area of low atmospheric pressure which moved up from the Carolinas and sucked air inward from various directions.
The storms that kill the most people in this country are not cold-weather storms at all. They are hurricanes and tornadoes.

September is the height of the hurricane season, and May is the height of the tornado season.
The nation's worst death-dealing hurricane was the one that struck Galveston, Tex., in 1900, driving a huge wave out of the gulf. About 6,000 people died.
The worst tornado was the tri-state tornado of 1925. It slashed a path through Missouri, southern Illinois, and Indiana and killed 689.
The worst flood, in terms of deaths, killed an estimated 2,200 people at Johnstown, Pa., in 1889.

though other floods have caused more widespread damage to property.
Forest fires have been known to kill more than 1,000 people, and the San Francisco earthquake and first of 1906 killed hundreds. But the greatest fire toll in a single building occurred in the Iroquois theater at Chicago, in 1903, when 602 people were either burned or trampled to death.
The year 1947 was a year of disasters in the U. S.
In March, a coal mine explosion at Centralia, Ill., killed 111 miners.

In April, a ship explosion at Texas City, Tex., took a toll of 512. Then there were four major plane crashes, in which 42 were killed at Laguardia field, New York; 53 near Bainbridge, Md.; 50 at Lookout Rock, W. Va. and 52 near Bryce Canyon, Utah.
Those aviation disasters were exceeded last June by the death of 58 persons in a plane which fell into Lake Michigan.
The largest death list in a U. S. train wreck was 101 at Nashville, Tenn., in 1918.
Motor vehicle accidents are not usually classed as disasters because the deaths come in ones and twos, but the victims are just as dead—and they mount to a fearful annual total. The record year was 1947, when 39,869 were killed. The national safety council says this year's total may be about 35,000, a post-war record.
